Background

Humanitarian Situation

- More than 100,000 killed, including 6,500 children under 16 years of age and 6,000 women
- 2 million refugees, with 3 million refugees estimated at the end of the year
- 4.25 million internally displaced people
- 200,000 Syrians are either detained or missing

Town destroyed by the on-going conflict

Thousands of Syrian people have been leaving their own homes due to the ongoing crisis and seeking a safe place, many people have been gathering in the nearby villages on the Syria-Turkey border. However, due to the lack of enough infrastructure, many of them are under inhumane situation; no proper shelter, less food, no health services, etc. Basic foods items are among the most urgent and essential needs of the Syrian people.

UWT Response

Ummah Welfare Trust field teams have been working throughout this crisis in Jordan and inside Syria since February 2011, delivering the much needed humanitarian aid to the affected people. The humanitarian operations in Jordan have come to an end with the emphasis placed on working directly inside Syria.

With the extremely generous donations given by all our donors in the UK and worldwide, Ummah Welfare Trust has been able to:

Total Spend	£3,273,289
Total No. of people Families supported	110,435
Total No of People benefited	552,175
Areas of operation	Idlib, Aleppo, Damascus, Darra, Latakia, Coastal areas, Homs, Dayr Zour Ar Raqqa. Jordan

Items Distributed to date:
236,385 food packs	3,200 Emergency Trauma kits
20,000 hygiene kits	20,000 Kitchen sets
2,000 Abayas	700 pairs of clothing sets
50 tons of wheat flour	458 Qurbani's
Ummah Camp 700 people (100 families)

These families had just fled their villages after heavy bombardment from the regime forces. They fled with only their clothes on their back. Ummah Welfare Trust field team located them in one of the suburbs in Aleppo, where they had taken up shelter in empty apartment blocks with no water and electricity.

Many families have decided to remain in their homes despite being besieged by the regime forces. These families do not receive frequent aid therefore face many hardships. There are many families who are widows and orphans. Ummah Welfare Trust after completing an in depth assessment have identified these families in several towns, cities such as Aleppo, Marafat Numan etc. and have started delivering the much needed aid to these families.

Establishment of Orphan & Widows Complex

Among all, children and women in shelters are more exposed to unsanitary conditions, including unsafe drinking water and a lack of water for personal hygiene, placing them at further risk of water-borne diseases including acute respiratory infections, leishmaniasis and skin diseases such as scabies.

After the assessment UWT established the camp in Samarda, Bab Ul Hawa, which is just across the border from Turkey. The camp is sited in a secluded and safe area which is set in the hills.

The Ummah Camp is catering for 100 families (600 individuals), specifically for orphans and widows. The camp has a kitchen, school, Masjid, sanitation and hygiene facilities. It has a perimeter security fence with only one exit / entry point. Daily cooked food being provided. Each tent furnished with mattresses, bed sheets, blankets, pillows, water cooler, fan and utensils. The camp has a generator for electricity.
